FOREWORD

This is the John Marshall story—the 1952 story. In it we meet once more with classmates who played, studied, and worked together during high school years. If we, the staff, can bring back to you just one fond memory in the years to come, our task will have been successful. Just as every good book, play, or picture is developed against a background which lends strength and body to it, so our story has a background, Richmond—its people and its interests. Without Richmond, steeped in noble tradition, there would be no John Marshall High School. Without John Marshall, the progress of Richmond and its many notable citizens would have been greatly retarded. Therefore, we wish to inject into this book by word and picture some evidence of this community of interest between our proud city and John Marshall High School of Richmond, Virginia.

PROGRESS

DEDICATION

Richmond, progressive city of the South, located on the historic James River, had its beginning in 1607, just four weeks after the Englishmen landed at Jamestown.

In the streets of Richmond we detect the footsteps of Washington, Lafayette, Lee, Madison, and Monroe.

Among the famous buildings in this city is the John Marshall House, named for the nation's greatest Chief Justice. From this house Marshall Street got its name. Leading citizens incorporated the Bank of Richmond. Later they named Bank Street for the building.

The James River Canal furnished a means of bringing produce — including tobacco, upon which Richmond's wealth depends — down to the market.

Out of a small settlement grew a great industrial city and capital of the Old Dominion. To Richmond — our city and our people — we dedicate this 1952 MARSHALLITE.

ROLL CALL

THE first section of our book is customarily devoted to "The School." We do not believe a more suitable subject to open this section could be found than the magnificent figure of General Robert E. Lee, beloved commander of the Confederate armies and distinguished Virginia educator. This equestrian statue of General Lee is one of the Monument Avenue group.

All good things must come to an end; so our four years at John Marshall must also end. Many will go on to colleges for further education; others will take their places in the world of business. Regardless of our stations in life, we will always remember our friends, our teachers, and our school. From the words of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, we choose this quotation as a guide for our own living:

"Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait."

Without John Marshall High School Richmond's progress would surely be retarded.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Yes, June 12, 1952 was really here—our graduation day. Have our four years in high school slipped by so quickly? It seems hard to realize that it has been four years since we first entered John Marshall as freshmen. Then we dreamed of and looked forward to June '52 when we would graduate. Now that it is here, we find it both a sad and joyous occasion—sad because our high school days at dear old John Marshall are over, and we will be parting with our friends and teachers we hold so dear; joyous because we are out on our own to try our luck in the business world, as some will do, or go on to college for further advancement in education, as others will do.

After coming back to school from a long summer's vacation, we began our senior year with the election of the senior class officers. Popular Frances Crouch was elected president of our class and Buddy Gregory, vice-president. The class chose Jim Vaughan as secretary and Robert Johnson, treasurer.

Our senior year was started out under the strong guidance of Miss Thelma Keene; but as she was given the honor of a higher position, Mrs. Zada Carver led us for the rest of the year as if she had always worked with our class.

We have been honored to have as chairman of our activities Mrs. Mary Warriner, whose faithfulness helped our class to be one of the best ever.

Our first public appearance together was made at the Community Chest Luncheon at the Gray's Armory on October 29, 1951. At this time the chairman of the drive announced our senior class president. Our cheerleaders boosted the drive by giving a yell for the Community Chest.

Thirty-three boys and girls were initiated into the National Honor Society on November 21, 1951. This was a joyous occasion for all those receiving the honor.

In December several senior girls attended a tea given at Westhampton College. We made a tour of the college before the tea. All the girls that went had a marvelous time. It was fun getting a glimpse of college life.

When Christmas came, our class was honored to present the usual Christmas Pageant given each year by the senior class. We chose Joyce Griffiths as our Madonna, who portrayed the part beautifully, and Eugene Bowles as Joseph. The lighting of the Memory Candle was started by our class. Frances Crouch, senior class president, lighted the candle in rememberance of the preceding senior classes who had presented the pageant. We hope this custom will continue through the years.

There was no graduation held in January since there were only twelve graduates. Those graduating were to receive their diplomas with us.

As there were so few graduates, there was no senior prom. Instead, the Girls' Athletic Association sponsored a mid winter ball for the whole school.

Those winning the Who's Who honor were presented at our Junior-Senior Prom held in the beautifully decorated Wythe gymnasium on May 17.

On Wednesday, June 11, we all attended the Baccalaurate Service held in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. Dr. Monroe Iglehart brought to us a message that will help guide our paths through many years to come.

Then Thursday, June 12, was here. With our joys and heartaches, we gathered at the Mosque to be together again as a group for the last time. It was hard for us to realize we would be parting, maybe never to meet again. But as long as we lived, we would never forget our days spent at dear John Marshall with our old friends and our new ones.

Characters in Pageant:

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

We were very glad to have the opportunity to carry on the tradition, started by the senior class of 1946, of presenting the Christmas Pageant to the school as an assembly program.

Our class added something new this year which will be carried on by the following senior classes. This was the memory candle, lighted in memory of past senior classes that have given the pageant. Ann Poynter had the distinction of being the first person to write the memory candle verse.

We chose Joyce Griffiths to portray Mary, and her dark eyes and hair made her a beautiful Madonna. Eugene Bowles was selected to be Joseph, and the angels were June Owen, Barbara Clarke, and Tiny Bailey. The wisemen were played by Vance Long, Jesse Morgan, and Robert Johnson, and Bucky Luck, Jimmy Vaughan, and Billy Clarke were the shepherds.

After Frances Crouch, senior class president, lighted the memory candle, five senior girls told the story of The Feast of Lights which is the Jewish celebration of the birth of Christ. These girls were June Hatley, Maxine Lowry, Betty Scruggs, Norma Davis, and Nita Tyler. Announcers were Shirley Archer and Dillie Thompson.

As the verse speaking choir told the Christmas Story, and the chorus sang Christmas carols, scenes of the birth of Christ were shown.

The first scene was Mary and the manger, and next as the choir sang It Came Upon the Midnight Clear, the scene of shepherds and angels was shown. As the choir sang We Three Kings of Orient Are, the wisemen following the star appeared. The last scene shown was of Mary, Joseph, Shepherds, Wisemen and angels.

Allen Barbee wrote the beautiful Christmas prayer, which Frances Crouch gave at the end of the program.

Many teachers and other persons told us our pageant was one of the nicest that had ever been given, and credit is due to many students who worked behind the scenes to make it so.

June Adams wrote the script and directed the program. Rosemary Morrison and Nancy Cobb were in charge of make-up and costumes, decorations were handled by Thomas Starke and Jackie Coates, and Gerald Gorman took care of the stage, and Gordon Edwards, the lights.

There was, also, work for others in the publicity department. Mary Virginia Powers had charge of the picture for the Marshallite, and Shirley Archer arranged for a picture on the Youth Page of The Richmond News Leader. Carolyn Baker sent the invitations to parents and businessmen.

Betty Johns and Nita Tyler had the job of counting votes for Mary.

The Christmas Pageant was one of the biggest successes of our senior year, and we shall always remember, with joy, the fun we had giving it.

EDNA LONG

May Queen

With beauty, charm, and grace, Edna Long reigned as Queen of this year's May Day celebration on the John Marshall Campus.

Lovely, vivacious Barbara Clarke, runner-up in the school-wide election of the Queen, was maid-of-honor.

Senior attendants in the court were Joyce Griffiths, Nita Tyler, Barbara Wade, Shirley Dowdy, Jeanne McBride, and Ann Page Richardson.

The junior class was represented by Jean Reynolds, Jane Duke, Catherine Brittle, and Betty McGee.

Sophomores in the court were Nancy Meyers, Jean Hall, Phyllis Solari, and Mary Ellen Garber.

Freshmen attendants were Joan Cecil, Sandra Cheatham, Patsy Partin, and Inell Hailey.

"Happy Holidays" was the theme of the festivities, which featured beautiful, unusual dances presented by girls in the physical education classes.

BARBARA CLARKE

Upon the shoulders of Jefferson Davis, valiant president of the Confederacy, fell the trying tasks of organizing the Confederate States. Throughout his administration, he acted with "dignity, sincerity, and devotion to the principle." We believe this well-known Davis statue, another of the Monument Avenue group, to be especially appropriate for the organization section of The Marshallite.

P. T. S. A.

President	Mr. Eugene Luck
First Vice-President	Mr. William Brock
Second Vice-President	Fred C. Mallory
Secretary	Janis Kersey
Treasurer	Mrs. J. P. Dunnavant

For the purpose of bringing closer relationship between the teachers, students, and parents, the Parent-Teacher-Student-Association of John Marshall High School was organized. Through this association the parents have been able to become better acquainted with the work of the students.

The first meeting of the P. T. S. A., held in mid September, was a "get-acquainted" meeting. At that time the parents went through the daily schedule of their son or daughter, personally meeting the teachers and talking with them. At the second meeting in early May, the group met in the school auditorium and was presented with the slate of officers for the new September term.

Continuing his second year as president, Mr. E. B. Luck successfully led the organization through the year 1952.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

OFFICERS

President	Rosemary Morrison
Secretary	Ann Auckerman
Treasurer	W. Vaughan Dunnavant
Scrapbook Keeper	Carolyn Baker

Granted its charter in 1939, The John Marshall Chapter of the National Honor Society began its first year of activity with thirty-seven members. These fourteen boys and twenty-three girls were under the leadership of Dr. C. Patrick Ely.

There is now a total of 569 members in the society, thirty-three of which were initiated last November, and now form the present membership. Of this group, twelve are boys and twenty-one are girls.

To become a member of this society, a student must have an average of ninety or above in all his subjects; he must possess the qualities of leadership and good character; and he must have done distinctive service for the school.

This year the Honor Society is truly an honorary organization, since those who belong to it have no special tasks as members. This is chiefly because almost every member works on at least one of the school publications, participates in athletics, or is active in the Student Association or Senior Class Organization.

As its project this year, the group has decided to send a questionnaire to past members of the society with whom they have lost contact. Each alumnus will be asked questions regarding other schools he attended after leaving John Marshall, his present work, if he has served or is now active in a branch of the Armed Forces, and any other information he would like to give. A record will be kept of replies to the questionnaire and will be used for reference and other purposes.

Since the Marshallite staff requested that all clubs and other organizations have their pictures for the year book made at some place of historical interest, the Honor Society chose the White House of the Confederacy. The group, with its sponsor, Miss Wilhelmina Wright, journeyed to the site on a cold and snowy afternoon. The picture taking was a great success, and everyone enjoyed the trip.

At an initiation in the spring, the society admitted a few new members, some from the senior class, and others from the junior class. The juniors will carry on the work of the society next year.

Miss Wright plans to entertain the members of the organization with a picnic or tea at a later date.

By living up to the standards of the National Honor Society, the members learn to practice good citizenship and help make John Marshall an even better school than it is.

Vice-President	June Adams
Secretary	Edna Long
Treasurer	Harold Dixon
Sponsor	Miss Arnita Raffo
Athletic Representative	Vance Long

Under the guidance of Miss Arnita Raffo and Mrs. Mary Warinner, the John Marshall Student Association claimed many accomplishments this year.

The student association, as usual, sponsored the Crusade for Freedom and the March of Dimes. According to tradition at John Marshall, this group supervised the filling of Thanksgiving baskets for Sheltering Arms Hospital and planned a special Thanksgiving assembly.

As a new project this year, the student association voted to back the operetta.

Commissions do a good deal of the student association work. One commission recently added to the organization is the public relations commission. Through this group, students may become acquainted with prominent persons in the community and city. Other commissions include: bulletin boards, cafeteria, research, health and safety, school spirit, orientation, and assembly.

City Manager Reeder and Mayor Parker meet with the officers, Bucky Luck, Vance Long, Harold Dixon, Edna Long and June Adams.

Billy Matthews, June Adams, Rose Dranchak, Edna Long, and Eugene Bowles decorate the Christmas tree.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Program Chairman	Nancy Norton

Since its beginning in 1930, the John Marshall chapter of Quill and Scroll, the international honor society for high school journalists, has accepted more than 600 members. With initiations in April and November of last year, a total of twenty-nine students became new members of the organization.

After each initiation, parents, teachers, and old and new members attended a gay party in the Monocle pressroom. With congratulations in the offering, spirits were high. Miss Mary Lambert, Mr. Grady Garrett, Mr. Walter Beverly, and the chapter sponsor were among the teachers present.

Marion Minor presided at the April initiation and welcomed twenty-two new members, most of whom were juniors. It was the first time that such a large number of junior classmen had received the honor. In November, Carolyn Baker initiated seven students into the society.

During the year, the chapter gave many parties. The Christmas party, which is for the old and new members, was indeed a happy one. Among the former members who attended were Bobbie Allen, former co-editor of The Marshallite; Mel Roach and Bill Snead, former sports reporters for The Monocle; Marion Minor, last year's Quill and Scroll president; and Thaddeus Crump and Clifton Long, who worked for The Monocle in the early 40's.

The members also gave a Valentine party, at which punch, cookies, and candy were served.

John Marshall's chapter won two more honors during the year; it received a blue and gold banner for continuous service and participation in the Quill and Scroll Society and won a plaque for its scrapbook, compiled by Sidney Dixon.

To become a member of Quill and Scroll, a student must rank in the upper third of his class, must have done distinctive work on a publication, must be recommended by the publication adviser, and must be accepted by the chapter sponsor, Miss Charles Anthony, and the executive secretary of Quill and Scroll, Mr. Edward Nell.

THE GIRLS' CHORUS

The Girl's Chorus has a membership of thirty-eight. They meet once a week, during recess. Members are chosen on a basis of seniority and ability. During 1951-52 the organization sang for the third time, THE MESSIAH, at Randolph-Macon College in the chapel at Ashland, Virginia, in combination with the College Glee Club on December 5, 1951. The Girls' Chorus sang several times, also, on the regular WRNL broadcast recorded at school.

THE CHOIR

The Choir represents John Marshall at school or in the community. It was organized in 1936, and membership is limited to thirty-six. Except in a year when an operetta was produced and when membership was practically doubled, it was called the Opera Class. Always specializing in a cappella work, the Choir of 1951-52 was heard regularly every week on WRNL; and the group reinstated the opera productions, giving the "Pirates of Penzance" on April 25, with the Orchestra.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The John Marshall High School Junior Red Cross' first project of the term was its enrollment campaign. This was very successful as we had almost 100 per cent. The money turned over to the City Chapter of the Junior Red Cross was $250.

The Junior Red Cross continued its paper collections and made the booklet, Junior Journal, for the shut-in patients at the Medical College of Virginia Hospital, Crippled Children's Hospital, and Dooley Hospital. The students visited and helped at the Medical College Hospital and at McGuire's Hospital.

Just before Christmas a new project was created, the Art and Music Committee. This committee had the main project for the spring. Records were made of the Vocal Classes, under the direction of Mr. Charles Troxell, to be sent overseas. These were traded for records from foreign countries to be sent to us. We feel sure this feature will become very popular. We, also, helped the Senior Red Cross with their drive, made spot announcements on the radio, and distributed posters during the spring.

LIBRARY STAFF

Thirty-seven student library assistants have been rendering most valuable service to fellow students and to the school by serving as volunteer workers in the library. Their duties include aiding others with library problems, routine desk work, checking passes, filing, etc. The staff feels that their daily tasks in the library have also aided them personally in that they have acquired a greater knowledge of books and libraries.

The staff holds regular meetings on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month, at which time library problems are discussed and various programs presented. This year the staff has issued several library news bulletins as part of their service to the school.

Every student on the staff meets certain standards scholastically and according to service rendered.

DON JUAN CLUB

Castillos de Espana? Si? Well, with a little imagination, you can go with us to Madrid, Mexico City, Havana, or any of the romantic places linked by the Spanish language. Who are we? Mire Ve. bien! We are the members of the Don Juan club. Our club is composed of the students of Spanish who desire still more contact with the customs, civilization, and literature of the Spanish speaking countries. Through programs consisting of music, games, skits, films, and visits from natives of these countries, we become better acquainted with the people who speak the language.

Here, the Club is shown at Pratt's Castle in Richmond. While this landmark is not of Spanish origin, still its rich traditions caught the interest of the members. Buen Viaje! Hasta la vista!

The boys and girls in the above picture, with several others, compose the Business Education Club of J. M. H. S. Each of them takes one or more business subjects.

The regular meetings are held on the last Friday in each calendar month in room 113 where the business is transacted.

Their chief aim or purpose is to provide opportunities for boys and girls to gain a broad outlook on life, the business world in particular; to acquire knowledge, skills, and understandings essential to earning a living; to recognize their own weaknesses and strong points; a willingness to learn from experience; and ambition to continue self education. Last, but not least, to develop desirable personality traits.

They participated in many interesting as well as instructive activities, such as talks from several outstanding business men and women of the city: Mrs. C. P. Eley, Distributive Education Co-ordinator of John Marshall High School—Retailing; W. W. Tucker, head of the Beauty Salon, Miller and Rhoads—Good Grooming; John Tyler, Jr., Assistant Cashier of First and Merchants National Bank—Money.

Pictures of value to them in their daily lives and work were shown, as the following: Eight Parts of A Business Letter, Filing Procedures In Business, I Want To Be A Secretary, By Jupiter (Everyday Courtesy).

We are greatly indebted to Mr. Truax, of Remington Rand, Inc., for having the group picture, for the yearbook, made in their display room. Mrs. Helen M. Tilson of the company demonstrated the machine.

The Distributors' Club is made up of students who are majoring in Distributive Education. These students are engaged in a work training program which integrates their classroom studies with the afternoon work that they are engaged in with the retail stores of Richmond. Their classroom training consists of units in Salesmanship, Speech, Retail Math, Merchandise Information, Human Relations, Display, Advertising, and Stockkeeping.

The club activities this year have included a Halloween Party, and a banquet to which each member invited his employer. On February 18, the club attended an Area Convention of D. E. Clubs in Petersburg, Virginia. At this convention each club that was represented entered a speech contestant who spoke on the subject "The Job is You." John Marshall's contestant was Shirley Loftis. Of the five contestants, our's ranked third.

On March 10-11 the Distributive Education Club of Virginia held their 9th Annual convention in Richmond, Virginia. Each club in Virginia has the privilege of electing representatives to this convention, the number depending upon the size of the club. Our club elected one representative. This was Otis Hazlewood, who is also club president. Otis was also asked to deliver the welcoming address to the convention, which is quite an honor as there are a large number of clubs from which to select this speaker.

At this convention the clubs are given an opportunity to display several projects which are judged. These projects, plus the individual merits of the club, determine its standing as far as the rest of the clubs are concerned. One project entered is a merchandise manual, which is compiled in connection with the unit on merchandise information. Each student prepares a manual on the type of merchandise in which he is most interested and the best and most complete one is entered in the State Convention. Also entered is a display which is representative of the principles learned in the display unit. A poster is also submitted for the judging. The theme of this poster is that of the convention, which this year is "The Job is Yours."

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS TRAINING

President	Leonard P. Hester
Vice-President	Joseph C. Davis
Secretary-Treasurer	Wayne S. Ehrhart
Coordinator	A. E. Harshaw

Through a cooperative agreement between employers, parents, and schools, the Diversified Occupations program enables students in the junior or senior year to select employment in certain occupations which, in cooperation with the school, serve as training agencies. Much care and thought is given to the satisfactory placement of each student, who thus receives training in the occupation of his choice under actual working conditions for a minimum of three hours per day, five days per week. The student also devotes three hours a day to school work, where he receives one hour instruction specifically related to his job and two hours of instruction in subjects required for graduation. Credit is granted toward graduation for satisfactory work on the job. In addition, the learner is paid a fair hourly wage by his employer. It also assists one in making a more successful transition from school life into the business world and equips one for earlier promotion.

The student benefits in that he gets a practical insight into the world of work and receives training on the job for the occupation of his choice. Additional satisfaction comes to him also in the opportunity thus provided for attaining good work habits and desirable attitudes.

The student is enabled to retain his identity with his school group and upon graduation has earned the necessary credit to enter college if he so desires. He also gains the necessary work experience to enable him to readily secure permanent full-time employment. Records indicate that 80% of the boys and girls completing this program of part-time training continue as full-time employees with the employers who cooperated in the training.

This year our class decided to have their picture made in one of the large business offices in Richmond where many former members of the office training class and other graduates of John Marshall are now employed; also, two members of our present class are employed here part-time. We want to thank Southern States Cooperative for permitting us to visit them and for the picture which they so generously took of the class while we were touring the Accounting Department. We want to thank Mr. R. E. Bentley, Mr. Charles Bahen, and Miss Margery Williams for their cooperation in making the visit and the picture possible.

The office training class is made up of senior students who intend to work upon graduation from high school. The students must have at least one year of typewriting before they can enroll in the class. The terminal semester of the senior year is a period of part-time on-the-job training. A minimum of fifteen hours per week employment in an office is required. Students receive school credit for classwork as well as for satisfactory work on the job. Students receive pay for their office work in addition to the school credit toward graduation.

There are many advantages to the student. It offers specialized pre-employment training. It gives the student an opportunity to try out in a real job situation. It saves time in discovering real interests and ability. It enables the student to earn while learning. It usually assures immediate full-time employment upon graduation and more rapid promotion. It offers a wide variety of experiences which broaden job opportunities. It helps develop a feeling of confidence in one's ability.

Many phases of office work are included in the classroom instruction: first, office conduct is stressed, including responsibility to the employer, work habits, business etiquette, grooming and dress for the office, and human relations; second, office procedures, including filing, answering the telephone, executing business forms, handling office mail, and receiving office callers; third, office machines operation including dictaphone, soundscriber, duplicators, mimeoscope, calculators, adding-listing machines, comptometers, and posting machines.

The John Marshall Literary Society has completed its fourth year under the direction of Miss Florence Ingram, who received the club in 1948. At first the Literary Society was open only to a selected group of Seniors, but later it was made possible for members of all classes to join the Society.

The Literary Society is composed of thirty girls who have been recommended by their English teachers because of their interest in and desire to learn more about the literature of America and in particular, the Richmond writers.

The project for this term has been a study of poetry. The programs, arranged by Carol Hayden and her committee, have been varied and interesting. To increase the group's understanding of poetry, the committee has provided guest speakers and movies on the works of some of the prominent poets. The Society has also participated in discussions about the lives of various poets and their poems. The guest speakers have included Miss Marjorie Dearhart, who reviewed a few of the latest books, and Mrs. Fred B. Dixon. When Mrs. Dixon spoke, the Forum Club was invited to join the group. This meeting was well attended, and the students especially enjoyed Mrs. Dixon's own contributions to poetry.

The annual Christmas party was held on December 15 and the entire club spent an hour of fun, playing games and enjoying the refreshments provided by the committee.

While giving opportunity for the enjoyment of the companionship of the fellow-members, The Literary Society builds up a love and an appreciation for the literature of America.

Our programs have included singing and playing games in French, and guest speakers who told us about the life and customs in France. We shall never forget the language banquet which was the highlight of the year.

The League sponsors a program of worship, study, service, and fellowship. This year a study of Bible characters has been made interesting with the use of films, outside speakers, and group discussions. Books have been sent to a student in Japan. The purpose of the John Marshall Forum Club is to discuss and stimulate interest in current problems in order to promote good citizenship.

Speakers this year have included Miss Archie Fowlkes who described the Reserve Officers Candidate School; Richmond's Chief of Police O. D. Garton who discussed "Youth and Narcotics"; Mrs. George Roper, past president of the Richmond League of Women Voters, who explained legislative procedure; Miss Marjorie Dearhart, our librarian, who exhibited current library materials and explained how to use them; Judge J. H. Montgomery, Associate Justice of the Juvenile Court, who talked on Juvenile Delinquency; and Dr. Fred B. Dixon, our principal, who discussed educational problems.

Members of the club have participated in programs on such topics as the British Elections; Our Deal with Franco; Inflation; President Colgate Darden's proposals for revising the compulsory education law; Communist Youth Rallies; The Role of the British Queen; the mutual security program; and lowering the voting age. Tommy Starke, Bill Matthews, Frances Crouch and Edna Long reported to the club on the Boys' and Girls' State which they attended in the summer.

Anne McCann and Watsey Curtis attended the Virginia Womens' Forum sponsored by Miller and Rhoads. They reported to the club on the topic discussed: "A Woman's Place in a Changing World." Members of the club have attended each session of the Richmond Public Forum and told us about the speakers and discussions.

Other activities have included a Christmas party and a trip to the Capitol to see the General Assembly at work. A picnic in the spring has become a traditional social feature of the club.

A new program attraction for each meeting has been a "broadcast" on the week's news by Catherine Samuels from station "Nozy News."

Publicity for the club has been handled by Paul Lindsey.

The Kiwanis sponsored Key Club of John Marshall is an organization to develop leadership and to help serve the school in the best way possible.

To become a member of the Key Club, a boy must have a good term average, be recommended by a teacher, and be approved by the members of the club. The members of the club are chosen from the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

The club has done many things this year to try to help the students at John Marshall.

Boys from the club decorated the City Stadium and had blotters and copies of the school cheers printed and distributed to the student body.

For the benefit of the pupils, the Key Club sponsored talks on some of the most popular vocations, such as engineering, nursing, and many others.

In honor of the fathers of the Key Clubers, a Father-Son Banquet was given. A banquet was also held to honor the boys' mothers.

Dr. Fred B. Dixon was taken into the club as an honorary member. Along with the principal, the club selected Edna Long Key Club sweetheart for a second time.

Probably the most important achievement of the club was a program of interest to most of the boys in school, especially those graduating.

The Corps of the Cadets and the junior and senior boys heard Colonel A. W. Harmen, State Director of Selective Service, speak on "You and the Draft." Copies of the speech were mimeographed and given to all the junior and senior boys.

Another important event of the past year was a presentation of a musical prestidigitation entitled "Presto." The boys combined with a local magicians society and worked hard to put on a good show. Everyone in the club enjoyed giving it and tried to do a good job for the enjoyment of the school.

With the assistance of the Kiwanis advisory committee, headed by Mr. Henry Huband and Mr. Richard Maxwell, and our faculty adviser, Mr. James C. Harwood, the club will carry on their activities next year.

THE ORCHESTRA

The John Marshall Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Morton L. Minnigh, has carried out a varied program this year. The orchestra, consisting of thirty members, has a class each day at the 6th period.

In December, ten of its string players joined with other Virginia high school students to participate in the 9th Annual State String Clinic held in Richmond. Malvern Kaufman, a John Marshall student, was concert master of this orchestra. The players who gave of their time and talent to make the state orchestra a success were given an opportunity to play in Philadelphia's Town Hall. In March the complete state orchestra was transported to Philadelphia to play for the Music Educator's National Conference. John Marshall was well represented in this group, and all who went gained a great deal through this experience.

In order that the members of the orchestra might be informed as to what Richmond Professional Institute has to offer in the field of music, the group visited this college and toured the music school under the supervision of Mr. Volney Sheppard. The picture for the Marshallite was taken at this time.

This past year the orchestra, chorus, and band have worked together a great deal to produce weekly radio programs which informed the public of the progress made in the music department. Special occasions such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, Brotherhood Week, and Easter have been emphasized with appropriate music.

In the latter part of February the orchestra helped in the Red Cross campaign. They played for thirty minutes preceding a banquet in the Mosque ballroom and were treated to a delicious dinner.

The orchestra, in cooperation with the Opera Class, presented a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance." It was produced in April in the school auditorium and was a tremendous success. Also, in April these two groups joined to produce a program for the Parent Teacher Student Association.

A city wide music festival was held at the WRVA Theatre in the spring. The John Marshall Orchestra was a participant in this event. One of their numbers was "Finale from the Fifth Symphony" by Beethoven.

During the past year the orchestra has gained twelve new members.

The purpose of this organization is to encourage the girls in this school in all phases of the physical education program, to promote good scholarship and school spirit, to establish the ideas of health, and to develop a spirit of sportsmanship in all of its members.

Membership is open to all girls of John Marshall High School. To become an active member in the Girls' Athletic Association one must pay her dues of a quarter a semester and participate in the association activities.

The meetings are on the first and third Tuesday in each month, at which time regular business is conducted. After the business session the vice-president, chairman of the program committee, provides some form of entertainment such as: movie slides, games, talent from the members, and speakers.

Girls participating in sports are given points which are kept on file throughout the four years at J. M. For the first one hundred points the award is a diamond shaped emblem, three hundred points a small felt letter, and for seven hundred and fifty points a large chenille letter.

Day School Ends; Night School Begins

JOHN MARSHALL EVENING SCHOOL

Dictation Time — Miss Brooks and Mr. Parrish.

Going to school is a daytime chore for the John Marshall student of 1952. For many an old timer — class of '50, say, or '40, or '30, or even '20 — it has become a night-time pleasure. During the past five years more than 500 Jayem graduates have enrolled in the John Marshall Evening School.

In addition to that more than 200 Tee-Jay diploma holders have joined their one-time rivals in the further pursuit of learning at the gaily lighted building in Chief Justice John Marshall's backyard. During these same five years, 1,300 graduates of other high schools have taken classes by candlelight, so to speak, after a hard day's work — and in the very same classrooms in which you thought you were having such a tough time.

This sort of thing has been going on almost from the first day John Marshall High School opened its doors. In fact, it was only two years after that momentous date (in 1911, to be exact) that Mr. W. C. Locker and two teachers started the John Marshall Night School. Before that first session was over, the enrollment had soared to almost 1,200 students, and a few more teachers, to be sure. Ever since then the Evening School has been a vital, dynamic factor in the adult education effort of our city.

In addition to the 2,000 high school graduates who have enrolled in John Marshall Evening School during the past five years, there has been a sizable group of students who, for one reason or the other, never had the chance to graduate from high school. A number of these, lacking only a few points, have earned sufficient credits by evening study to obtain their diplomas from John Marshall, or Thomas Jefferson, or some other high school.

The student body of our evening school, during these past five years, has included a large number of college graduates. There have been 352 holders of college degrees, plus 32 persons who have done graduate work in various universities. There were 200 others who had completed one, two, or three years of college.

So, John Marshall, at night, you see, is not a dull, dark, dismal pile of bricks and mortar. It is a structure pulsing with life, energy, and enthusiasm.

The present principal of the John Marshall Evening School is Mr. Oscar H. Parrish, one of Dr. Dixon's able daytime assistants. His secretary is our own Miss Brooks, (Joyce, to you) John Marshall '50, than whom there is no more loyal, fervent Marshallite in captivity.

Absent: Lloyd Breeden, Archie Wilson.

The Hi-Y is a little YMCA at John Marshall, keeping close contact with the Central Y at Foushee and Franklin Street where this picture was taken. In keeping with the Christian themes of the parent organization, the club tries various service projects around J. M. and the community.

Outside speakers frequently appear to speak on such diverse topics as courtship, military service, forestry, leap year, Russia, atomic power, and driving.

The club is limited in membership to freshmen, sophomores, and juniors; but any in those classes subscribing to Christian principles may join.

The Y-Teens are members of clubs sponsored by the YWCA for high school and junior high girls. Each club elects its own officers and plans its own programs and social activities. Y-Teens have hikes, parties, dances, discuss present day problems, and have discussions on clothes, charm, personality, boy and girl relations, and religion. Y-Teens also do worthwhile things in the community. During the past year we wrapped Christmas packages for the Salvation Army and had a YWCA swimming party.

While attending a tea at the YWCA, we had this picture taken for the Marshallite.

THE RECORD

Co-Editors..................Ann Hunter, Jackie Randlette
Business Manager..James Dodl
Assistant Editors..................Peggy Toon, Eva Longest

The Record is now completing its forty-second year, during which time there have been many ups and downs, innumerable pitfalls and much laborious work on the part of the staffs we have had throughout the years. Their never-ending efforts have been well rewarded, for The Record has four times in its existence won the "All American" honor rating given by the National Scholastic Press Association.

We are deeply indebted to Mr. W. F. Beverly, our adviser, for his untiring efforts and for his suggestions which have guided us through the fog that confronted us as we neared publication each issue; to Miss Lambert for her kind advice; and to Miss Cunningham for her splendid work in the art department.

Special consideration is due Mrs. Henderson's Typing 4 classes and to the other individuals who assisted with the typing and who gave a great deal of their time. Without their help publication would have been next to impossible.

We wish to extend our thanks to the students throughout the school for their manuscripts, for those that were published and for those that were not. We wish to thank our artist also for his beautiful covers.

To those whom we did not mention, the behind-the-scene-workers, and all of those who may have gone unrecognized, we are extremely grateful.

We would like to commend especially the large staff we had this year for their wonderful co-operation in the many problems we have come upon.

Members of our staffs in former years have become doctors, scientists, professors, and authors. The Record staff has enjoyed issuing The Record for the students here at John Marshall each year. We hope that it has lived up to your expectations and that you have enjoyed reading it as well.

The Record staff also wishes success and happiness to the 1952 graduating class, that your future lives will be ones of great joy and prosperity and that you will always remember The Record and John Marshall.

Your magazine began in its spring issue a campaign to promote the highest ideals of honor and integrity in all our work, particularly in the field of creative writing. We shall not rest until we shall succeed in driving home the self-evident truth that it is just as evil in principle to submit other writers' work as your own as it would be to jump into a stranger's parked car and drive it away as your own. Our efforts in this area, we feel, may come to be the peak of our endeavors toward making this a better school in which to live and work.

Here, too, we must pay tribute to the industry and enthusiasm of our able co-editors, Ann Hunter and Jackie Randlette, who have been untiring in working for the magazine, but were completely wordless, almost, when asked to write this piece about the glories of the magazine. Maybe it was too much like praising themselves; and so this anonymous hand had humbly to do the honors.

THE MONOCLE

Starting a new school year with another top honor from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, added to the ones received from Quill and Scroll and the Southern Interscholastic Press Association, The Monocle has continued to bring to its readers news of events in school, community, and world affairs.

The staff has done this by making few changes in headlines and none in method of writing news and feature stories.

It has backed many worth-while activities such as the Junior Red Cross, Community Chest, and Tuberculosis Christmas Seals.

Staff members bring to light activities of the different classes and the J. M. Student Association in interesting and lively stories.

By working on The Monocle staff, many have achieved the standards necessary for admittance to Quill and Scroll, the National Honor Society, and other school organizations.

Staff members must keep a high scholastic standing as well as publish an outstanding paper.

March 1 marked the twenty-third anniversary of The Monocle, which the staff celebrated with a party, attended by many distinguished guests.

For the homerooms who subscribe to The Monocle 100 per cent, the staff awards attractive door cards. This year the art classes furnished clever cards made in the shape of hearts signifying Valentine's Day, which was also the date of the first issue of the new semester.

Each year the journalism class aids the regular staff by making up the page lay-outs and writing the stories for one issue of the paper. By doing this, the cubs get the practice which is essential if they are to continue to uphold the high rating of The Monocle. The January issue was an excellent example of the accomplishment of the journalism class.

THE MARSHALLITE

Through this annual we of the 1952 Marshallite staff hope to recapture the beloved days we seniors have spent at John Marshall during the last four years. We hope to recall the joys of the fabulous football games, those exciting basketball contests, the formal dances, and the classroom activities.

This year our fine co-editors have been Frances Powell and June Adams. They, along with the other members of the staff, have worked diligently to make the 1952 Marshallite a book we'll cherish always and one through which we will enjoy glancing and recalling the familiar faces of our schoolday friends. We will not soon forget the invaluable help of Mrs. Burnett; the meetings with the commercial artist, Mr. Ford; or the trips to see Mr. Christopher, the engraver, and Mr. Rose and Mr. Chestnut at W. M. Brown & Sons, our printer.

Mr. John Arnold, who handled the advertising section of the Marshallite, called on each member of the senior class to attempt to sell an ad to help pay for several new additions in the 1952 annual, such as the "Who's Who" section, photos of the May Queen and her court, and baby pictures of many of the seniors. Ida Kerneklian was the top "ad-getter" of the year.

It is our sincere wish that the senior class will like our dedicating this book to our proud city of Richmond and its people. The beautiful photographs of Richmond found throughout the book were given to us by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.

We hope that this Marshallite pleases all the seniors as much as it has pleased the staff as we watched it grow into a memory book of our high school days at dear old John Marshall — days we are not likely to forget.

Any cadet is eligible for the team, and it is selected from those men maintaining consistently high scores in firing from the prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing positions. The seasons record, which follows, was made against excellent teams of this area:

The Corps of Cadets

The Corps of Cadets, organized in 1915, is a voluntary organization for the boys of John Marshall. The Corps is proud of its long and colorful history which has embraced three world conflicts and seen its alumni go forth into the armed forces of this country. Cadet life, with its many activities, is indescribable in significance except to those who have experienced it. These pages reflect this year's history of those who have belonged to what is affectionately known as "The Corps."

Jeb Stuart, tireless cavalryman of the Confederate forces, is our selection to head the athletic section of The Marshallite. Strong of body, active and alert, General Stuart had all the attributes needed for and developed by athletics, including a tremendous competitive spirit. This is the first statue of General Stuart and is located on Richmond's Monument Avenue.

WARWICK

John Marshall opened its 1951 football season under the new head coach, Bill Goodlow, by walloping Warwick, 24 to 0, at Parker Field. Allen Barbee, who got off runs of 55 and 65 yards, and Benny Gill, who piled up a total of 78 yards rushing, led the Justice offense.

GRANBY

After battling to a 0 to 0 halftime deadlock with Granby, John Marshall managed to tally one touchdown on a 71-yard dash by Allen Barbee in the third quarter and eke out a 6 to 0 decision over the Tidewater crew.

HIGHLAND SPRINGS

Trailing 6 to 0 at intermission, the Justices came back in the third and fourth quarters wiht four touchdowns and won a 26 to 6 thriller from a scrappy Highland Springs eleven. Benny Gill sparked the Jayem scoring with 134 yards gained rushing and two touchdowns.

BENEDICTINE

Sparked by back Willie Dvorak, the Irish of Benedictine handed the Justices their initial defeat by a convincing 21 to 0 margin. Dvorak was the game's top performer with two touchdowns and three extra points.

HERMITAGE

Led by the line play of Bill Daly and the quarterbacking of Charley Brandmahl, the Hermitage Panthers handed the Justices their second straight City League defeat by a tight score of 12 to 6. Jayem led at halftime on a score by Marvin Nuchols but could not hold its advantage.

HAMPTON

The Hampton Crabbers scalped the Jayemers 35 to 13 with their brilliant star, Billy Harrison, running wild. He scored four touchdowns in his team's victory. Quarterback Tommy Adkins was the Justices' brightest performer, passing for one touchdown and scoring another.

HOPEWELL

Lewis Dean proved a worthy successor to big brother Johnny as he sparked Hopewell to a 39 to 0 thrashing of the Justices on a rain-soaked turf. The running of speed demons Bobby Scruggs and Floogie Walker also featured the Devils' twenty-ninth consecutive conquest.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Tommy Adkins and Allen Barbee were superb as the Justices won a thriller from George Washington, 28 to 20. Barbee scored two touchdowns, one a 60-yard t. d. run, and Adkins passed brilliantly time after time.

THOMAS JEFFERSON

The fans who watched the Jayem-Teejay clash saw one of the most thrilling games of the entire year, as the two rivals battled to a 13 to 13 tie. Allen Barbee sparked the Justices with a 56-yard touchdown dash, while Teejay's big fullback, Joe Call, constantly carried as many as three Justice tacklers with him on long power runs. Hooks Parrish and Stuart Woolcott played superb defensive games for the Big Blue, and Bob Bortner, Tommy Lee, and Floyd Adams did likewise for the Jeffs. Ronnie Hebner scored the Presidents' first touchdown on a 73-yard sprint.

PETERSBURG

In their annual Turkey Day Classic, the Petersburg eleven fought like Tigers to overcome a highly favored John Marshall team, 26 to 6. The Justices never came close as the determination of their more spirited opponents prevailed. K. B. Maddrey sparked the Wave with some of the hardest running John Marshall had encountered all year.

The John Marshall Justices opened their cage campaign by absorbing a 76 to 36 loss at the hands of George Washington. Jayem next sank two Central District opponents, Petersburg and Hermitage, with respective scores of 47 to 34 and 47 to 31. Next, the Justices scalped previously unbeaten Highland Springs, 55 to 38. Jayem put on a scoring spree in the final two minutes to overwhelm St. Christopher's, 60 to 47. The Justices captured two more contests, licking Benedictine, 57 to 47, and Granby, 48 to 41.

In a real thriller, John Marshall whipped Thomas Jefferson 50 to 46. Glass's Hilltoppers put a halt to the Justices' win streak by edging them, 41 to 37. Next, the Big Blue team dumped an improved Highland Springs five by a 55 to 50 margin. Jayem barely squeaked by Benedictine, 42 to 38. Thomas Jefferson won the second game of the crosstown rivalry by running up a 53 to 47 tally. Mike O'Bryan's 20 points and rebounding provided Jayem with the spark it needed to defeat St. Christopher's, 51 to 47.

The Jayemers laced Granby 66 to 47, but lost their next encounter to Petersburg, 53 to 49. The Marshallites handed Hopewell its worst defeat of the season, 49 to 28. The second tussel with Hermitage was a thriller – the Justices winning, 38 to 36, to earn themselves a bid to the tournament. Jayem finished its regular season with a triumph over State Catholic Champs, Cathedral, 41 to 33. Defending champions, Newport News, handed the Justices a 53 to 39 drubbing in the first round of the Group I Tournament.

BASEBALL

John Marshall completed its second highly successful baseball campaign with a record of 19 victories as against only one defeat. That one loss came to a non-district team, Washington and Lee of Arlington. The Justices captured twelve Central District games, whipping Petersburg, Hopewell, Hermitage, and Thomas Jefferson each three times. They triumphed in ten City League contests over Teejay, Hermitage, St. Christopher's, and Benedictine. In outside competition, the Justices twice thrashed Highland Springs and took a 5 to 4 decision from Arlington.

Vance Long won seven games for the Marshallites, and Bucky Luck, Ken Snyder, and Marion Martin finished way up in the batting department. The Justices' most thrilling game was the second with Teejay. Trailing 9 to 8 at the end of the first of the ninth, the Big Blue rallied for two runs in the last of the ninth to come out on top, 10 to 8.

TRACK...

The only real bright spot for the Justice track supporters during the '52 season was the way Joe Holland improved with each shot-put toss.

In their first dual meet, the Justices bowed to a very strong Glass squad, 74-5/6 to 39-1/6. Holland was the only Justice to capture a first place, as he hurled the shot 50 feet, 2½ inches.

The Jayem boys came up with two firsts in the annual Tidewater track meet in Williamsburg, as Joe Holland and Buddy Gregory won their specialties. Holland set a new State record in the shot with a throw of 52 feet, 9½ inches. Gregory triumphed in the 880 yard run in the time of 2 minutes, 4.2 seconds.

Holland continued to steal the show, as he surpassed his best attempts and heaved the shot 53 feet against Hermitage to lead his Justices to a 67 to 45 win. He also took first place in the discus throw. The Marshallites swept to all three places in the 880, with Buddy Gregory first across the finish line. Jimmy Greenstreet captured the high hurdles and finished second in the low hurdles.

In the Central District meet, Holland hurled the shot a remarkable distance of 53 feet, 11-7/8 inches, his best mark in competitive play. The 880 was won by Gregory for the Justices, as the Marshallites finished a poor third behind Thomas Jefferson and Hopewell.

Buddy Gregory and Joe Marr turned in excellent performances as the Thomas Jefferson Presidents whipped the Justices, 62-1/3 to 43-2/3. Marr showed good promise for the next season, when he finished first in the mile run. Gregory ran the 880 in 2:06.2. Holland, as expected, won the shot and finished second in the discus. John Marshall was strengthened when Allen Barbee decided to run. He won the broad jump, and finished second in the 100-yard dash and the 220.

Holland won first place in the State meet with a toss of 53 feet, 7-1/2 inches on the shot and finished fourth in the discus. Gregory had a third in the 880 for the Justices.

HOCKEY

With seven lettermen returning to this year's hockey squad, hopes were high for a winning season.

Back to their old positions were Rose Dranchak, Elsie Jones, Dot Marks, Ann Madert, Anne McCann, Phyllis Cecil, and Barbara Frye.

Although the girls' play improved with each game, they lost six contests and tied one. Practically all the games were close, two being lost by one point and two by two points. The team was at its best against Thomas Jefferson, tying them 1 to 1.

The girls took part in two post-season tournaments, the Allied B East and the Virginia Allied B. In the Allied B East, played at Hotchkiss Field, Phyllis Cecil, Dot Marks, and Rose Dranchak won berths on the reserve team. These three then participated in the Virginia Allied B tournament, at Westhampton College, which consisted of two teams from the northern, eastern, and western part of Virginia.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Anna Mae Jordan goes in for a layup.

Although there were five holdovers from last year's successful squad back again this season, the girls' basketball team won only five games while dropping four.

Three of the losses were by very slight margins — that of two points, three points, and four points difference.

The returning lettermen, Carol Hayden, Anna Mae Jordan, Frances Crouch, Rose Dranchak, and Betty Paschall, were joined by June Hatley, Nita Tyler, and Dot Marks, up from last year's B team.

Off to a bad start with two straight losses, the team, captained by Carol Hayden, got back into the win column to post a better than .500 average.

At the post-season All-Prep tournament at Thomas Jefferson High School in the early part of March, Betty Paschall and Dot Marks won berths on the All-Prep team. Frances Crouch was selected to a position on the All-Prep Reserves.

Starting out on the right foot, the junior varsity, led by Barbara Frye, won its first four games and went ahead to chalk up a 6 won-3 lost record.

OUR CHEERLEADERS

As the fiscal year begins in January, the Justice cheerleaders' year begins in June, the first week after school closes, with practice every Tuesday night until the latter part of August.

The sponsor makes the final selection of new cheerleaders after she checks grades.

Cheerleaders serve the school in many ways besides leading cheers.

A few days before each new term began, the cheerleaders were on hand to direct groups of freshmen through Jayem's halls for orientation.

Something new took place this year, and Justice fans were quite pleased to see their cheering squad in royal blue skirts at the John Marshall-Benedictine game.

For the Jayem-Alexandria game the corps and the cheerleaders went along to boost the spirit of the team.

Planning For Future Security . . .

Thousands of young men and women graduate from high schools throughout the land this June. Many of them look towards college educations and career opportunities which could not have been theirs except for life insurance purchased for them years ago by a loving parent or relative.

Life insurance guarantees many other personal and family ambitions too, and its ownership will bring you the same satisfaction and security it now provides millions in all walks of life.

are these "the best years of your life"?

Parents often say they are, but there can be plenty of good times ahead.

Especially if you get a good job, doing interesting, important work with the kind of people you love to work with. Many high school girls find exactly that at the telephone company, after graduation.

When you finish school, stop in and see us. You'll probably find a job you'll enjoy at good pay with regular raises.

The Mark of A Champion . . .

WHEN a young man can face the business world with the same undaunted courage that he bucks the line in football, and can take the bumps that inevitably will come to him in business, and can keep his fighting spirit and keep smiling . . . then he has the mark of a champion. The world needs young men like this and the world will make way for them. The life insurance business needs such men, so why not prepare yourself for a career in the life insurance business. It's a business of opportunity for young men of ambition and vision.
